Career Development for Working Professionals

Resources and lifetime career
support for INSEAD alumni

The Business School
for the World®

The connections you make at INSEAD last a lifetime

Your relationship with the school lasts a lifetime too. That is why INSEAD is now investing in lifelong career support for alumni at every stage of their career.

Career coaching (two free sessions)

INSEAD offers all alumni the option of two free career coaching sessions with one of our global career coaches. These coaches – many themselves INSEAD alumni – adapt their approach to the different stages of your career. They offer advice on:

- Defining your career goals
- Designing your job search strategy (refining your targets, networking approach and CV)
- Changing careers, work-life balance and work transitions
- Interviewing and salary negotiations

To request career development support, please email wpcareer@insead.edu.

Online resources

INSEAD has created an online career development site to aid alumni at different stages in their career. This site offers self-help resources covering challenges such as:

- Career design and transition
- First 90 days in a new job
- Surviving and overcoming job loss
- Career reinvention and renewal at 45+

Visit career-development.insead.edu. Alumni also have access to INSEAD's CareerGlobe portal where you can search for job postings and opt into the quarterly Alumni CV book. Visit insead-csm.symplicity.com.

Webinar library

Alumniextra.com features world-class thinkers like Steve Dalton, Dave Evans and more. Browse through our library of recorded webinars with your free account.

Careers events & webinars

Career Development for Working Professionals co-organises with Alumni Relations various career focused events at alumni reunions.

Since 2012, we have also co-organised a series of webinars including:

- Daniel Porot (MBA'66) on radical career change
- Dave Evans on designing your career
- Steve Dalton on networking your way to interviews

Details of forthcoming career themed webinars are announced at insead.edu/alumni/lifelong-learning.

Alumni experience videos

To give alumni and students an insight into the different career paths available to INSEAD graduates, we have developed a series of videos where faculty and alumni share their experiences of:

- Working for organisations like Google, Goldman Sachs or the United Nations
- Understanding careers in a variety of sectors, such as tech, consulting and more!
- Leveraging the power of networking, collaborating with headhunters, achieving career change, and securing board roles

Visit youtube.com/user/INSEADofficial and browse through the Alumni Experience playlist.

Networking (online)

Alumni looking for new opportunities should maintain an up-to-date profile on:

- The INSEAD alumni directory - my.insead.edu
- INSEAD's 18,500 member LinkedIn group - linkedin.com/groups/580/profile

Networking (face-to-face)

INSEAD's National Alumni Associations organise 900+ events each year. Generations of INSEAD alumni have found that attending both national and global events is a fantastic way of creating powerful connections:

- Local events (organised by National Alumni Associations) at my.insead.edu
- Global events organised by INSEAD at insead.edu/events

Most importantly – apart from the pleasure of seeing old friends – alumni in transition should make a particular effort to attend their 5-yearly reunions.
