

Abbas Seqqat
Co-founder and CTO, CogTalk

Abbas Seqqat is co-founder and CTO of CogTalk. Before founding CogTalk, Abbas was the Global Technical Implementation Head for IBM Watson (today's leading AI and Cognitive technology provider) where he led global conceptualization and implementation of tailored AI projects for leading companies in various sectors – banking, telco, healthcare, education, government, etc. He also created and nurtured the Systems Integrators Ecosystem for IBM Watson to promote Watson technology and increase global adoption. Abbas was instrumental in bringing to market Watson AI API services – he led the development and commercialization of ~80% of the API toolkit. Abbas is often invited to speak at conferences, participate in panel discussion, contribute to articles, and participate in TV interviews on topics related to AI.
